

X3Profiler: Dataflow Diagram at Level 0:

Explanation: The initial data is in the form of unparsed gprof output. The user can open it and let our system operate on it. The system will then parse the raw gprof file and create a file recognizable by our system. The system will use that data to create the graph.